

Survivor Life Coaching Options

SPECIAL RATES for newly diagnosed and on treatment patients.*

Cancer Patients and survivors come to me for three things.

1. Been-there-done-that wisdom and advice about things they don't know or are afraid to ask about.
2. Support creating a New Normal life when treatment ends, most often including desire to be healthier; give back in some way; and to make the most of their lives as survivors.
3. To live fully by creating healthy lives filled with people, experiences and things that matter most to them.

When diagnosed and/or going through active treatment, talking with me, a fellow survivor, can calm fears and provide emotional and practical support so decisions can be made and treatment managed. When active treatment ends, my proven What's Next life coaching process helps integrate the changes of cancer into a healthy, thriving New Normal life as a survivor. Often, roller coaster emotions and stress can be reduced significantly in as little as one phone conversation.

Here's what I offer for cancer patients and survivors.

No Cost / No Obligation Consultation: This 30-minute session is done via phone or online, and can be a lifeline at time of diagnosis. You'll talk about what you are experiencing. I'll share ideas and tools with you. At the end of the conversation, if it feels right to both of us, we can talk about further coaching options. Or not. You'll leave feeling much better, with ideas and actions you can use; I'll be glad I had the chance to get to know you. Book your consult now!

On Demand Coaching for Newly Diagnosed and On Treatment patients: Following the initial consult, this is a good fit for people on active treatment when emotional or practical issues come up. Most often, the coaching is provided on an as needed basis, in 15 minute increments with no set amount of session or time frame for working together. I'm here when you need me but you are not obligated to me in any way.
